In the spring season of the year, I was born in an intellectual and kind family. I was like a gift from the God to them especially to my kind mother whom I have always respected and has encouraged me in my life.

When I opened my eyes, I got familiar with the world. When I started walking, I walked towards the garden full of flowers and green grass, butterflies buzzing around. For this reason, spring season is the best season for me.

Hadia is my name and Hamdard is my surname which my friends have selected for me. I am calm but sometimes stick on one issue. I don't like behaving rudely. The only thing always concerns me is loneliness. I like the sunset in autumn. I like reading books and poems. I have left my childhood behind but still feel the taste of it. I love children and my favorite colors are blue and black. Ashak and Bolani are my favorite food and they are delicious when my mother cooks them.

I five children and I love them the most in my life.

Living a simple life, simplicity and honesty are the principles of my life. In order to live, we should breathe and in order to love, we have to suffer.
